THE FIFTY-FIFTH REPORT
OF THE
AMERICAN
HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY
PRESENTED BY THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
AT THE
ANNUAL MEETING, MAY 11, 1881:
WITH AN APPENDIX.

NEW YORK:
THE AMERICAN HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

THE HOME MISSIONARY.

This Monthly is furnished at sixty cents a year postage paid. The subscription price could not well be less. Its whole present issue should go to actual subscribers. But, unless they prefer to pay, it will be sent free, as heretofore, to Life Directors and Life Members; Missionaries of the Society and its Auxiliaries; Ministers securing a yearly collection for it in their congregations; also, to every individual, Association, or Congregation, one copy for every ten dollars collected and paid over to the Society or an auxiliary. Suitable names should accompany the payment. Pastors are earnestly requested to serve Home Missions by promoting the use of this Journal at the Monthly Concert and among their people.

Immediate notice of discontinuance or change of post-office address should be given.

APPLICATIONS FOR AID.

Congregations desiring aid should apply at once after finding a minister. They should make a full statement of the facts in their condition and prospects which justify an application. They should also give these particulars, viz.:—

Population of the place.

Whether growing, stationary, or declining.

Names of the church or churches, and preaching stations.

Number of church-members.

Average number of attendants on public worship.

Denomination and size of contiguous congregations.

Names and distances of the nearest Congregational churches.

Minister's full name and post office address: Town, County, State.

Whether he resides on his field of labor.

Whether he has any other calling than that of the ministry.

Whether he is now, or is to be installed pastor of the church.

Of what Ministerial Association he is a member.

Of what local church.

The number of persons composing his family.

Total amount of salary proposed.

Amount pledged by the people, and how secured.

Amount pledged by the people last year.

Whether the minister has, also, the use of a parsonage.

Whether aid is expected from any other source.

The least amount that will suffice from this Society.

The amount received from this Society last year.

Whether a less amount will probably be needed next year.

Amount contributed to this Society last year.

Amount contributed to other benevolent causes.

Date of the desired commission.

The application must be signed by the officers of the church, where there is one, and by the trustees or a committee of the congregation.

If the ecclesiastical body, within whose limits the congregation is situated, has a "Committee of Missions," the members of that committee should certify these statements, the standing of the minister, his prospects of usefulness there, and indorse the application. If no such "Committee of Missions" exists, the application should be indorsed by two or more neighboring clergymen, acquainted with the facts. If no church or congregation is yet gathered, applicants will follow the same course, as far as practicable.

Applications, after being so indorsed, should be sent to the Superintendent (or Secretary of the Auxiliary) for the region where the applicants reside.

Appropriations, as a rule, will not be dated back more than two months from the time when the application was made, or more than three months from the time when it reaches the Executive Committee in New York; and they never cover more than one year. If further aid be needed, a new application is required, containing all the particulars named above, and indorsed as before. To this the certificate of the missionary, that the congregation has fulfilled its previous pledges for his support, must be added. The address of the Society's Superintendents and the Secretaries of its Auxiliaries will be found on the cover of its Reports and of The Home Missionary.

FORM OF A BEQUEST.

I bequeath to my executors the sum of _____ dollars, in trust, to pay over the same in _____ after my decease, to the person who, when the same is payable, shall act as Treasurer of the American Home Missionary Society, formed in the City of New York, in the year eighteen hundred and twenty six, to be applied to the charitable uses and purposes of said Society, and under its direction.

FIFTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY
OF THE

PUBLIC services were held on Sabbath evening, May 8, 1881, in the Broadway Tabernacle church, New York.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. WM. M. TAYLOR, D.D., Pastor of the church.

An abstract of the Report of the Society's work for the year was presented by Rev. HENRY M. STORRS, D.D., one of the Secretaries.

A sermon was preached by Rev. C. L. GOODELL, D.D., of St. Louis, Mo., from Ezekiel xxxvi., 28-30: "And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God. And I will also save you from all your uncleannesses, and I will call for the corn, and will increase it, and lay no famine upon you. And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field." With Matthew x., 8: "Freely ye have received, freely give."

On Wednesday, May 11th, the Society met at its Rooms, in the Bible House, at four o'clock P.M.

AUSTIN ABBOTT, Esq., a Vice-President of the Society, occupied the chair in the absence of President WOOLSEY, and the meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. C. L. GOODELL, D.D., of St. Louis, Mo.

The Treasurer's Report was presented by Rev. ALEX'R H. CLAPP, D.D., Treasurer of the Society.

An abstract of the Annual Report of the Executive Committee was presented by the Secretaries.

On motion,

Resolved, That the Reports now presented be accepted, and published under the direction of the Executive Committee.

An amendment to Arts. VI. and IX. of the Constitution having been recommended to the Society by the Executive Committee, it was unanimously Voted, so to amend those Articles that they shall read as follows:

Art. VI. Any person paying ten dollars into the Treasury of this Society, may, at his request, then made, become a Member of the Society for the current year; or a Member for Life by paying at one time thirty dollars, with similar request; or a Director for Life by paying at one time, or on two occasions, what shall amount to the sum of one hundred dollars, with similar request. An executor, on paying a legacy of two hundred and fifty dollars, may thus become a Life Member; or, on paying one of a thousand dollars, a Life Director.

Art. IX. Officers of Auxiliary Societies shall be, ex-officio, Directors; and any person paying ten dollars into the Treasury of an Auxiliary may, at his request, then made to this Society, become a Member of this Society for the current year.

Also on recommendation of the Executive Committee, it was unanimously

Resolved, That a Committee of nine be appointed, with power to fill vacancies in their number, from the Life Members and Life Directors of the Society, to consider the expediency of so modifying the Constitution as to permit the Annual Meeting to be held at some other date than that named in Article X., and at other places than New York: and, if such a change shall be deemed expedient, to propose, at the next Annual Meeting of the Society, whatever amendments of the Constitution shall be necessary for the purpose, and for the best interests of the Society.

The following gentlemen were appointed as that Committee: Hon. NATHANIEL SHIPMAN, Conn.; Hon. CHAS. I. WALKER, Mich.; Hon. JAMES WHITE, Mass.; Rev. E. P. GOODWIN, D.D., Ill.; Hon. A. C. BARSTOW, R. I.; Rev. A. B. ROBBINS, D.D., Iowa; Hon. J. E. SARGENT, N. H.; Rev. C. L. GOODELL, D.D., Mo.; Rev. A. F. BEARD, D.D., N. Y.

On the Report of a Committee of Nomination, the following Officers were elected for the ensuing year, and the Society adjourned.

CONSTITUTION

OF THE

ARTICLE 1. This Society shall be denominated THE AMERICAN HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

ART. 2. The object of this Society shall be to assist congregations that are unable to support the gospel ministry, and to send the gospel and the means of Christian education to the destitute within the United States.

ART. 3. The officers of this Society shall be a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, an Auditor, one or more Secretaries for Correspondence, a Recording Secretary, and fifty Directors, who shall be annually appointed by the Society; and who, together with the Directors for Life, shall constitute a Board, seven of whom shall be a quorum at any meeting regularly convened.

ART. 4. The Officers and Directors shall appoint an Executive Committee of fourteen (including the Treasurer, the Secretaries for Correspondence, and the Recording Secretary), residing in the City of New York and its vicinity; five of whom shall be a quorum at any meeting regularly convened. The Committee shall have power to appoint its own meetings, form its own rules of business, and fill any vacancies in its own number which may occur during the year, and to convene special meetings of the Board or Society; shall appoint missionaries, and instruct them as to the field and manner of their labors; shall have the disposal of the funds; shall create such agency or agencies for appointing missionaries, and for other purposes, as the interests of the Institution may require; and shall make an Annual Report of their proceedings to the Society.

ART. 5. The Treasurer shall give bonds, annually, to such amount as the Executive Committee shall think proper.

ART. 6. Any person paying ten dollars into the Treasury of this Society may, at his request, then made, become a Member of the Society for the current year; or a Member for Life by paying at one time thirty dollars, with similar request; or a Director for Life by paying at one time, or on two occasions, what shall amount to the sum of one hundred dollars, with similar request. An Executor, on paying a legacy of two hundred and fifty dollars may thus become a Life Member; or on paying one of a thousand dollars, a Life Director.

ART. 7. Any Missionary Society may become Auxiliary, by agreeing to pay into the Treasury of this Society the whole of its surplus funds, and sending to the Secretaries for Correspondence a copy of its Constitution and Annual Reports, mentioning the names of its missionaries, and the fields of their operations.

ART. 8. Every Auxiliary Society which shall agree to pay the whole of its funds to this Society, shall be entitled to a missionary or missionaries to labor in such fields as it may designate; at least to the amount of its contributions, provided such designation be made at the time of payment.

ART. 9. Officers of Auxiliary Societies shall be ex-officio, Directors; and any person paying ten dollars into the Treasury of an Auxiliary may, at his request, then made to this Society, become a Member of this Society for the current year.

ART. 10. This Society shall meet annually in the City of New York, on the Wednesday next preceding the second Thursday in May.

ART. 11. No alteration shall be made in this Constitution without a vote of two-thirds of the members present at an annual meeting; nor unless the same shall have been proposed at a previous annual meeting, or recommended by the Executive Committee.

ACT OF INCORPORATION.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Theodore D. Woolsey, William G. Lambert, Christopher R. Robert, Simeon B. Chittenden, Richard S. Storrs, Jr., William I. Budington, Calvin C. Woolworth, Charles Abernethy, John B. Hutchinson, Henry M. Storrs, William Henry Smith, Milton Badger, David B. Coe, A. Huntington Clapp, Austin Abbott, and George S. Coe, and all such persons as are now, or hereafter may become members of The American Home Missionary Society, formed in the City of New York in the year one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six, are hereby constituted a body corporate by the name of "The American Home Missionary Society," for the purpose of assisting feeble congregations, and of sending the gospel and the means of Christian education to the destitute within the United States.

SEC. 2. Said Corporation shall be capable of taking and holding, by purchase, gift, grant, devise, or bequest, subject to the provisions of the law relating to devises and bequests by last will and testament, real and personal property, and of granting or otherwise disposing of the same, for said purposes.

SEC. 3. The net annual income of the Society, arising from their real estate, shall not exceed the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars.

SEC. 4. This Corporation shall possess the powers and be subject to the provisions of title three of chapter eighteen of part one of the Revised Statutes, as amended, so far as the same are applicable.

SEC. 5. This Act shall take effect immediately.

FIFTY-FIFTH REPORT.

SINCE the last Anniversary of the Society, two of its Vice-Presidents, Rev. SAMUEL H. COX, D.D., LL.D., and GEORGE MERRIAM, Esq.; and two of its Directors, Rev. WILLIAM ADAMS, D.D., LL.D., and Rev. OLIVER E. DAGGETT, D.D., have been removed by death.

Dr. Cox was a member of the Convention which organized the Society, and he has outlived all but one of his associates in that work. He was elected a Director in 1837, and a Vice-President in 1842. During the whole period of the Society's existence, and in all the stations of honor and usefulness which he has occupied, he has ever cherished a deep interest in its work, and an affectionate sympathy with the men who, in humble spheres and through rough paths, have followed in the footsteps of their Master in preaching the gospel to the poor.

By the decease of Mr. Merriam, this Society, in common with many others of a similar character, is bereaved of one of its wisest counselors and most munificent patrons. He was elected a Director in 1860, and a Vice-President in 1871; but many years previously he was deeply interested in its work, and contributed liberally to its funds. His gifts were made unostentatiously, many of them anonymously, but always with an intelligent regard to its special needs and the ever-increasing grandeur and claims of the cause. They steadily and rapidly increased, till they amounted to several thousand dollars annually, and equaled, if they did not exceed, those of any other individual. He also manifested, in many effective ways, his sympathy with the laborers in the field; and not only in the circles of his acquaintance, but in thousands of hearts and homes throughout the land, his memory is precious.

Dr. Adams has been warmly interested in the work of this Society from its very origin. In his early home at Andover, Mass., he was the intimate friend of the men who suggested and took the first steps toward its organization. On his removal to New York, he took a prominent part in the conduct of this and other institutions of benevolence having their business centers in this city. He became a member of the Executive Committee in 1838, and discharged his duties in that relation assiduously for thirteen years. In 1853, he was elected a member of the Board of Directors, and held that position till his decease. Not only in his official connection with the Society, but as a pastor, as President of the Union Theological Seminary in this city, and in every sphere in which he moved, he was a true friend and an eloquent advocate of this and kindred agencies for Christian evangelization.

Dr. Daggett was elected a member of the Board of Directors in 1862, but he had already been for nearly twenty years a member of the Society's Board of Agency in Western New York. In that position, and as pastor of the Congregational Church of Canandaigua, he took a leading part in the oversight of the work of the Society in that part of the State; he there witnessed, also, the fruits of the seeds sown in that region by Home Missionaries in earlier days; and he gained a high appreciation of the importance of this agency for the evangelization of our country. He subsequently returned to Connecticut, where he became pastor of the church in Yale College, and afterward of the Second Congregational Church in New London. In both of these positions, and to the end of his honored life, he cherished a warm interest in this Society, as was testified by his generous pecuniary gifts, and by his earnest and eloquent advocacy of its claims.

Six missionaries have been removed by death since the last Anniversary: Rev. EPHRAIM N. HIDDEN, in Massachusetts; Rev. EUSEBIUS HALE, in New York; Rev. JOHN RICE, in Missouri; Rev. MILTON WELLS, in Wisconsin; Rev. CHARLES O. PARMENTER, in Iowa; and Rev. FRANCIS McCRAKEN, in California.

The operations of the Society in the different States and Territories of the Union, and in connection with its various Auxiliaries, are noticed under their appropriate heads in the body of the Report. Such details as can be presented in a compact form are embraced in the following GENERAL TABLE.

EXPLANATION.

In this TABLE, the following abbreviations, appended to the names of missionaries in the first column, designate the Auxiliary Societies by whose funds the congregations and missionary stations below which they are placed have been aided, viz.:

- M. M. S., Maine Missionary Society.
- N. H. H. M. S., New Hampshire Home Missionary Society.
- V. D. M. S., Vermont Domestic Missionary Society.
- Mass. H. M. S., Massachusetts Home Missionary Society.
- M. S. C., Missionary Society of Connecticut.
- R. I. H. M. S., Rhode Island Home Missionary Society.
- Ill. H. M. S., Illinois Home Missionary Society.

The names of missionaries who were not in commission last year are printed in italics.

SUMMARY OF RESULTS.

The number of ministers of the gospel in the service of the Society, the last year, whose names are found in the General Table, commencing on page 13, together with those engaged in superintending the work, is 1,032.

Of these, 777 were in commission at the date of the last report, and 255 have since been appointed.

They have been distributed in 34 States and Territories, as follows: In Maine, 82; New Hampshire, 59; Vermont, 53; Massachusetts, 75; Rhode Island, 8; Connecticut, 44; New York, 51; New Jersey, 6; Pennsylvania, 5; Virginia, 1; West Virginia, 1; Florida, 1; Texas, 2; Indian Territory, 3; Kentucky, 1; Ohio, 21; Indiana, 8; Illinois, 48; Missouri, 30; Michigan, 95; Wisconsin, 54; Iowa, 76; Minnesota, 58; Kansas, 107; Nebraska, 59; Dakota, 23; Colorado, 15; New Mexico, 1; Utah, 2; Nevada, 1; Arizona, 1; California, 29; Oregon, 4; Washington, 8.

This distribution gives to the New England States, 321; Middle States, 62; Southern States, 9; Western States and Territories, including 41 on the Pacific coast, 640.

Of the whole number in commission, 406 have been pastors or stated supplies of single congregations; 377 have ministered to two or three congregations each; and 249 have extended their labors over still wider fields.

The aggregate of ministerial labor performed is 783 years.

The number of congregations and missionary districts which have been fully supplied, or where the gospel has been preached at stated intervals, is 2,653.

Five missionaries have been in commission as pastors or stated supplies of congregations of colored people, and 26 have preached in foreign languages: 13 to Welsh congregations, 9 to German congregations, 3 to French congregations, and 1 to congregations of Swedes.

The number of Sunday-school and Bible-class scholars is not far from 99,898. The organization of 224 new schools is reported; and the number under the special care of missionaries is 1,658.

The contributions to benevolent objects, reported by 607 missionaries, amount to $21,839.97.

Fifty-nine missionaries make mention of revivals of religion during the year, in two of which there have been 100, and in others 60, 55, 36, 35 and 30 hopeful conversions. In 56 instances, the number of reported converts exceeds ten; and the number reported by 279 missionaries is 2,464.

The additions to the churches, as nearly as can be ascertained, have been 5,922, namely: 2,962 on profession of faith, and 2,960 by letters from other churches.

One hundred and thirty-one churches have been organized, in connection with the labors of the missionaries, during the year, and sixty-seven have assumed the entire support of their own gospel ordinances.

Fifty-seven houses of worship have been completed; one hundred and thirty-two materially repaired or improved; and the building of twenty-six others commenced. Forty-two young men, in connection with the missionary churches, are reported as in different stages of preparation for the gospel ministry.

THE TREASURY.

RESOURCES.—The balance in the Treasury, April 1, 1880, was $20,412.14. The receipts for the succeeding twelve months have been $290,953.72—making the resources for the year, $311,365.86.

LIABILITIES.—There was due to missionaries, at the close of the last year, $3,434.22. There has since become due, $285,517.02—making the total liabilities $288,951.24.

PAYMENTS.—Of this sum $284,414.22 have been paid, leaving $4,536.42 still due to the missionaries for labor performed. In addition to these past dues, appropriations already made, and daily becoming due, amount to $52,183.46, making the total of pledges $56,719.88, toward canceling which there is a balance in the Treasury of $26,951.64.

COMPARATIVE RESULTS.

A glance at this condensed statement shows that in nearly all of its most significant items the work of the year surpasses that of the preceding. Seventeen more missionaries have been employed. Eighteen more have labored in the Western States and Territories. Sixty-eight more have extended their oversight beyond a single congregation each. The number of congregations stately supplied is greater by 345. An aggregate of twenty-two more years of missionary labor has been expended. The additions to the aided churches exceed those of the fifty-fourth year by 324. Of these additions, two more than half were received on confession of their faith, a fact which is believed to be unique in the Society's history. The number of churches which the missionaries took part in organizing is greater by 45, and has never before been equaled in a single year. Self-support has been assumed by 23 more churches than last year. The number of Bible-class and Sunday-school scholars surpasses the very large increase of last year by 3,174, and the number of schools is proportionately enlarged. In the building and improving of houses of worship, also, there has been a gain on the preceding year.

The Treasury receipts exceed those of the previous year by $24,233.31, and have been equaled but four times in the fifty-five years of the Society's work. Of the year's receipts an unusual proportion has come from the hands of living donors, the sum from this source having been equaled only twice since the work began.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

This important branch of the Society's work continues to grow steadily in favor with donors. They have contributed for this use in the year just closed, $3,752.36, more by $869.20 than the gifts of the previous year, and nearly quadrupling those of four years ago. In the esteem of the missionaries, it could hardly stand higher than it has stood for many years. The most devoted and far-seeing of them have ever looked upon the religious care of children and youth as one of their chief trusts, and upon the forming and nourishing of Sunday-schools as the most fruitful method of fulfilling it. The thousands of living, permanent missionary schools brightening every part of the field, and in so many cases the forerunners of spiritual churches, are the witnesses to their faithfulness. The latest four years of more especial effort to supply the feeble frontier schools with books, papers, and other helps, however, have given a growing impulse to the work, that has repaid many times the outlay of time and money. The reports, though defective, mention the organization of 224 new schools within the year, and show that the number of children and youth weekly taught in schools under the missionaries' care, is but a few scores short of 100,000.

In accordance with a suggestion of the late National Council, conference has been had with the Congregational Publishing Society, the outcome of which—as may be seen in The Home Missionary for May, 1881—is the leaving of each Society free to pursue its proper work in its own way. Friends of missionary Sunday-schools, who count it a privilege to cheer the hearts of the brethren having the oversight of them, are earnestly invited to enlarge their gifts to this department of our work.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

From the first opening of Christian work in the new Territories, such as Utah, New Mexico, and Arizona—indeed, wherever Mormonism or Jesuitism has borne sway—experience has been teaching missionaries of all evangelical denominations that some preliminary intellectual training was a prime essential of success. On the mature generation little impression could be made, and the only hopeful access to the children and youth was through the secular school. The few pioneer brethren who represent this Society in these Territories, have urgently pressed the importance of such schools, under the care of Christian women; and with a view to meet the demand, Article II. of the Constitution was last year so modified as to allow the taking up of the work of "Christian Education" along with that of "Sending the Gospel to the destitute within the United States." This line of work, calling for the teaching service of Christian women, naturally made a strong appeal to the women of our churches to provide for the pecuniary support of their sisters who should give themselves to the distant and arduous service.

The Woman's Home Missionary Association, organized in Boston, in February, 1880, of which some account was given in THE HOME MISSIONARY for May, 1880, and whose work has been set forth in the monthly issues since March, 1881, has pledged the pecuniary support of three ladies who have been commissioned by this Society, and are now at their posts in Utah. That Association proposes to enlarge its work as its means shall allow. It is hoped and expected that organizations of Christian women to aid this missionary educational work of the Society, will go rapidly forward throughout the country.

PUBLICATIONS.

The circle of readers of THE HOME MISSIONARY has been greater, during the year now reported, than ever before. The average monthly issue has been 23,000 copies. With the first number of the fifty-fourth volume, four pages have been added to the magazine, and it is printed upon larger paper, giving wider margins, and otherwise increasing its attractiveness. On its pages the progress, needs, and prospects of the work have been kept before the friends of Home Missions. The arguments and appeals for self-denial and prayer in our country's behalf have been enforced by noble examples of Christian sacrifice, unconsciously set forth in frank communications from brethren in the field. Such a record of the deeds and experiences of saintly men, who are making history, will one day be of inestimable value to the historian seeking for the forces that have shaped the civil, educational, and religious character of the nation.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL LEAFLET has a circulation of 31,100. Its object is to keep our friends acquainted with the Society's missionary Sunday-school work, its aims, obstacles, successes, and recompenses. Though prepared mainly with an eye to adults, not a few of the missionaries' experiences in this branch of their work, have proved most attractive and useful to children. We hear of Sunday-school concerts, in which the exercises consisted chiefly of the reading or recitation of brief articles taken exclusively from THE LEAFLET. There are few ways in which pastors and other friends may more profitably aid the cause, than by increasing the number of readers of THE HOME MISSIONARY and THE LEAFLET.

MISSIONARY BOXES, ETC.

As heretofore, many known helpers in this line, individual ladies, and societies, either prefer to withhold, or forget to send for publication, the number and value of packages prepared for the cheer of home missionary families, in the way of clothing, housekeeping supplies, books, cash, etc. Yet the number of packages reported within the year is 630, and reckoning those not appraised by the donors, at the average valuation of the others, the money value of this form of donation is $57,988. Adding thereto the gifts of books, communion sets, cash, and helps not acknowledged, but known to have gone forward, $61,000 is a low valuation to set upon the receipts in this line, carrying up the year's income to $351,953.72. A marked feature of the year's missionary boxes, and one which has warmly commended them to the missionaries, is the increased number of good books contained in them—thus providing that the soul shall be warmed and filled as well as the body.

1. The total of receipts for fifty-five years is $9,030,635.88.
2. The total of years of labor is 35,206.
3. The whole number of additions to the churches is 297,692.
4. The average expenditure for a year of missionary labor includes the entire cost to the Society of obtaining the missionary, defraying his expenses to his field, and sustaining him on it, as well as the average proportion of all the expenses in conducting the Institution.

REMARKS ON THE TABLE, PAGES 62, 63.—1. At the organization of the A. H. M. S., in 1826, the missionaries of the United Domestic Missionary Society, whose responsibilities it assumed, were transferred to it, and the greater portion of them were in commission in the State of New York.

2. The Maine Missionary Society and the Vermont Domestic Missionary Society became integral parts of the National Society in the third year of its operation; the New Hampshire Missionary Society, in the fourth year; the Connecticut Missionary Society, in the fifth year; and the Massachusetts Missionary Society, in the seventh year.

3. In 1845, the missions of this Society in Canada were, by an amicable arrangement with the British Colonial Missionary Society, transferred to the care of that Institution.

4. In the Table will be seen the progress which has been made, year by year, in the newer States of the West, as they have severally come into being, and presented fields of peculiar promise for missionary culture. When this Society was formed, Indiana and Illinois were in their infancy. Michigan was, at that time and for ten years subsequent, a Territory; in 1825 it had but one Presbyterian or Congregational minister, and he was a missionary. Wisconsin remained, eight years after the organization of this Society, the almost undisputed home of the Indian. Iowa was not organized as a Territory till 1838. Oregon was reached by our first missionary there in the summer of 1848, after a voyage of many months by the way of the Sandwich Islands. Our first missionaries to California sailed from New York, in December, 1848. Our first missionary to Minnesota commenced his labors at St. Paul, in July, 1849.

5. It should be borne in mind that the number of missionaries in these newer States and Territories, as well as those that have been longer cultivated, gives but an imperfect idea of the ground that has been occupied by missionary enterprise. Churches, every year, become independent, and others are taken up in their stead.

AUXILIARIES AND MISSIONARY FIELDS.

MAINE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Rev. JOHN O. FISKE, D.D., President; Rev. JONATHAN E. ADAMS, Bangor, Secretary; JOSHUA MAXWELL, Esq., Portland, Treasurer.

The receipts of this Auxiliary in the year ending February 28th, were $12,709.39. The amount acknowledged from churches and individuals in Maine, by the Treasurer of the National Society, in its year ending March 31st, was $227.14. The entire contributions from Maine for Home Missions during the year were $12,936.53, which is $257.17 less than those of the previous year. The amount expended for work within the State is $12,752, which is $72.75 less than in the preceding year.

Eighty-two missionaries have been in commission in the field of this Auxiliary within the year covered by this report, and have performed fifty-three years of service. Fifty-seven are ordained ministers, and twenty-five are licentiates. Three have received ordination since the year commenced. Thirty-five have continued their labors through the year, thirteen between six and ten months, and the others five months or less. These laborers have ministered to eighty-eight churches, and at thirteen other places where churches do not exist. Two houses of worship have been erected, and two or three others will soon be completed. Three churches have come to self-support.

"The year," says the Secretary, "has not been one of marked religious interest; yet reports mention some conversions and additions. The pastors have done faithful work, sowing the seed and cultivating the soil, in expectation of rich harvests in the future. Friends are coming to the rescue in the matter of contributions, and the receipts of the later months are very satisfactory and encouraging. A 'Woman's Auxiliary' was organized last June, and its systematic contributions and timely remittances show the wisdom of the plan. It is in the hands of ladies who mean business and success. Churches and pastors seem disposed to unite two or more points under one supply, and recently several very important unions have been formed. It requires self-sacrifice and hard work to carry these double fields, but the distances are not like the Western circuits. We are glad to notice a reaction in favor of homes in our own State. Many of our young men begin to feel that it will pay, all things considered, to develop the resources of Maine. But, as the newer regions are settled, there is a call for larger appropriations and more work on the part of the Missionary Society. It is hoped that the income will be adequate to the demand, and that men qualified for the work may be found for the fields. May the God of missions furnish men and means for the East and the West.

"The Trustees, though oppressed by their own heavy burden, renew the assurance of their hearty sympathy with the National Society in its vast and ever-augmenting work. In their last report they say: 'The same burden is upon all who in providence are called to care for the missionary work in any of its departments.' Often they cast their care upon God, and often they seek to lay it over upon the people of God. May he hasten the time when their prayers shall be heard, and their longings shall be realized; when the State of Maine shall be so completely redeemed as to come into line with other New England States which are forwarding large contributions to the National Society, and the wider field. The time must soon come when our Treasury will overflow largely into the general Treasury, and when the churches of Maine shall be anxious to reap the reflex influence which is already enjoyed by some of our sister Auxiliary Societies."

NEW HAMPSHIRE HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

REV. SAMUEL C. BARTLETT, D.D., LL.D., President; Rev. EDWARD H. GREELY, Secretary; Hon. LYMAN D. STEVENS, Treasurer. Office in Concord.

The amount received by the New Hampshire Auxiliary in the year closing February 28th, was $10,480. The Auxiliary paid into the Treasury of the National Society, in its financial year ending March 31st, $792.74, including $12 for the Sunday-school Department. There was also paid from the State into the Treasury of the National Society, in its fiscal year, from legacies, $4,461.41; from churches and individuals, $1,000.19; of which $82.72 were for the Sunday-school Department—in all, $6,254.34, making the contributions in New Hampshire for Home Missions, $16,734.34, or $3,392.16 less than in the year preceding. The expenditures for missionary service within the State were $12,632, being more than those of the previous year by the sum of $3,929.22.

Fifty-nine missionaries employed by this Auxiliary have performed, on sixty-five fields, forty-one years of missionary labor. Twenty-nine have labored the entire year, and thirty for a less period. One church has been organized, five houses of worship have been repaired, and two missionaries have been installed as pastors of the churches which they serve. The year has been characterized by little of stirring incident, or of anything that would give special interest to a report. The churches, in common with those of the country generally, have manifested, during the last two years, less than usual religious interest, and gathered less than usual spiritual fruit. In various directions, there are now indications of an approaching change in these respects.

"In some aspects," says the Secretary, "our work is a discouraging one, and makes very strong demands upon the faith and patience of those called to carry it on. Few of our aided churches come to self-support, and, as things now look, few are likely to do so in the future ; while, by the slow, but relentless, operation of causes which imply no fault on their part, the number which must be aided or die is steadily increasing. The recent census reveals the fact that while the population of the State, as a whole, appears to have increased nine per cent. in the last ten years, showing that, as a State, it is losing none of its present or prospective importance, that increase has been almost wholly in the larger towns. Of one hundred and sixty-seven towns in which there are churches of our order eighty-eight have a less population than ten years ago. And this fact is one of profound significance. It means the draining of the life-blood of the churches of those towns into our larger towns, and into the great all-devouring West. It means the going out of the very choicest that these churches have reared, to put their young strength and enthusiasm into churches elsewhere. It means the giving, often in sadness and despondency, on the part of these churches, of gifts whose value to them, and to those also to whom they are given, is not to be measured by money.

“Still, even when the prospect seems darkest, and the burden heaviest, the question returns—What then? Can we, in fidelity to the trusts clearly committed to us, let them die? Can the churches of our towns, grown strong at their expense, afford to let them die? Can the West, to which the immigration from these churches has been as rills from the fountain of life, afford it? Can the world afford it? For there is no land, where aggressive work for Christ is done, where these churches are not represented ; no work for Christ and human redemption into which their prayers and alms, and some, at least, of the choicest of their children have not gone. They have not been laggards and deserters from the advancing host, that they should be left to die in cold neglect. They must not, and God helping us, they shall not die, but live for more of such service in the coming years.”

VERMONT DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

HON. FRANKLIN FAIRBANKS, President ; Rev. CHARLES S. SMITH, Secretary ; J. C. EMERY, Esq., Treasurer. Office in Montpelier.

This Auxiliary received from all sources during the year ending February 28th, $9,546.57. The Treasurer of the National Society acknowledged from Vermont, in the fiscal year ending March 31st, from legacies, $1,336.46, from churches and individual donors, $2,442.96, of which sum $243.75 were for the Sunday-school Department ; in all, $3,779.42—making the amount contributed in Vermont for Home Missions, $13,325.99—or more by $3,320.71 than in the preceding year. The expenditures on the work within the State were $8,119.17, or $1,808 less than in the previous year.

Fifty-three missionaries have been employed in this State, supplying fifty-two different fields, and performing forty-two years of ministerial service. Two pastors have been settled and two dismissed. One house of worship has been finished and dedicated, free from debt, and four have been thoroughly repaired. One church has assumed the entire support of its pastor. "Emigration," says the Secretary, "has been large during the last decade, larger in proportion than from any other State, so that the net increase remaining in the State has been only one-half of one per cent. Our churches have thus been seriously weakened, and the volume of contributions has not kept pace with the increase of the general prosperity of the people. There has been no general religious interest pervading our churches; but individual churches have experienced precious seasons of refreshing from the presence of the Lord."

In regard to the importance of sustaining the small and dependent congregations of that State, the Directors speak as follows:—"We need to keep in mind that there are souls in them worth saving; that all this quiet that rests upon them, the healthful influences in them which come from communion with nature, are the very best possible conditions and influences, if supplemented by the teachings of religion, to mould the minds and hearts of the young, and fit them for great and noble deeds. And so we see one and another of the children born in these places distinguishing themselves for physical force, mental quickness, and a determined energy. They seek the high school in the neighboring town; against great obstacles press their way through college, and take the first rank in the learned professions. They are in due time found in the pulpit, preaching the gospel to a city congregation, or in the mission field; at the bar, or on the judge's bench; in the statesman's seat; or as merchants or business men commanding the service and respect of many—the leaders in society. Is it a matter of no small importance what are the moral and religious influences predominant in these unobserved country places? Whether those who grow up in them, through right religious training, become imbued in early life with the truths of God's Word, and with reverence for their Maker, and so become builders, wherever they go, of Church and State?"

MASSACHUSETTS HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Rev. JULIUS H. SEELYE, D.D., LL.D., President; Rev. JOSEPH B. CLARK, Secretary; Rev. GEORGE N. ANTHONY, Treasurer. Office in Boston.

The receipts of this Auxiliary, for the year ending February 28th, were $65,153.77, of which $869.89 were for Sunday-school work. The Auxiliary paid into the Treasury of the National Society, in its financial year ending March 31st, $14,000, including $700 for the Sunday-school Department. The National Society also received direct from Massachusetts—in legacies, $11,689.02; in contributions of churches and individuals, $16,438.64, including $449.39 for the Sunday-school Department, and $320.82 for the Educational Department; in all, $28,127.66. The entire amount raised in the State, in cash, for Home Missions, was $93,281.43, of which $24,422.63 were expended on their home field. The amount placed at the disposal of the National Society for work on the Western field, was $72,127.66, or more by $6,046.44 than in the previous year.

Seventy-five missionaries have been in commission the whole or a part of the year, and have supplied ninety churches or missionary stations. Three churches have been organized, three have ceased to depend upon the Society for aid; two houses of worship have been completed, four are in process of erection, and two have been extensively repaired. One missionary has ceased from his labors, and gone to his rest and reward. The Secretary testifies as follows in regard to the growing interest of the churches in Home Missions: "Home missionary interest in Massachusetts has increased during the year. While the total receipts of the Society have been in advance of those reported in the previous year, the gain has been in donations rather than legacies. This gain has been nearly $5,000, and should be considered a hopeful sign of growing popular appreciation of this enterprise. The demand for missionary intelligence is unprecedented. Missionary converts have been multiplied, and a good Home Missionary map is sought for by many churches. The Woman's Home Missionary Association has done much to awaken interest among the ladies. We believe that, by all these agencies and methods, an intelligent sympathy for Home Missions is increasing, and growth of knowledge will be followed by increased prayer and gifts."

The Executive Committee of this Auxiliary advert, in their last report, to the recent enlargement of the work of the National Society on the frontier; and they summon the churches of Massachusetts to encourage and sustain this movement by their prayers and gifts. "This advance," they say, "along the whole line has been a spontaneous movement, an impulse at the missionary frontier, answering to the quickened missionary conscience of the churches in the more settled regions. This response from the front should now be echoed back by a new measure of giving and praying among the people at home. And so, year by year, the missionary at the front and the churches at the rear should provoke each other to better and better works. This, we believe, is to be the history of the future. The perils and needs of our country begin to be felt. The zeal of the people is already breaking over the bounds of the old organizations. New commissions for specific work are coming into existence. The Christian women organize for a share in the toil and the triumph; even the children are catching the enthusiasm of these times, and banding together for the redemption of a country whose future is more to them than to all others. We rejoice together in these results. We cheer one another with these signs."

RHODE ISLAND HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Hon. ROWLAND HAZARD, President; Rev. JEREMIAH TAYLOR, D.D., Secretary; S. H. TABOR, Esq., Treasurer. Office in Providence.

The receipts of this Society, for the year ending February 28th, were $4,124.56. The National Institution also received from Rhode Island, $3,895.54, of which sum $500 were the avails of a legacy, and $32.60 were for the Sunday-school Department. The expenditures in the State were $2,519, and the total amount raised for Home Missions $8,020.10, or $2,920.30 more than in the previous year.

Eight missionaries have been in the service of this Auxiliary since the last report. They have ministered to seven churches, and at several points where churches do not exist. Two missionaries have been installed pastors of the churches which they serve. One church has been gathered, and another has erected a house of worship. Several of the fields have enjoyed the personal oversight of the Secretary, when not otherwise supplied, and all of them are reported as in a satisfactory condition. "I am happy to state," says the Secretary, "that the work of Home Missions never seemed more important to the churches of Rhode Island than at the present time; and there seems ground to warrant the expectation that the National work will not languish through a culpable lack of co-operation on our part."

MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF CONNECTICUT.

Rev. WILLIAM H. MOORE, Secretary; WARD W. JACOBS, Esq., Treasurer. Office in Hartford.

The receipts of the Connecticut Auxiliary, in the year ending February 28th, were $12,109.05. The expenditures within the State were $13,404.36. There was received into the Treasury of the National Society, during its financial year: from the Treasury of the Auxiliary, $3,201.60; avails of legacies, $24,961.98; contributions of churches and individuals, $17,007.84; for the Sunday-school Department, $606.13; for the Educational Department, $5—in all $45,782.55. The total amount raised in the State for Home Missions was $57,891.60, or more by $5,858.13 than in the preceding year. The amount put at the disposal of the National Institution was $45,782.55, which is $6,073.87 more than in the previous year. Forty-four missionaries have been in commission since the last report, and have performed thirty-five years of service.

Two Missionary Societies have been in existence in Connecticut for many years. "The Missionary Society of Connecticut," organized in 1798, appealed to the churches for yearly offerings "to Christianize the heathen in North America, and to support and promote Christian knowledge in the new settlements within the United States." It accumulated a fund for this purpose, which amounted, June 1, 1880, to $50,962.87. In 1816, "The Connecticut Home Missionary Society" was organized, to supply the destitute in the State of Connecticut; and in 1831 it became Auxiliary to the American Home Missionary Society in the prosecution of Home Missions at the West. Since that date, The Missionary Society of Connecticut has made no appeals to the churches for funds, but has continued to administer the fund previously accumulated. In 1880, The Connecticut Home Missionary Society was merged in The Missionary Society of Connecticut, the charter of the Trustees was amended and the corporate name was changed to "The Directors of the Missionary Society of Connecticut." Under this charter, the Board of Directors will use the income of the fund, referred to above, so as to aid the National Society in its work on the frontier, and, after supplying the wants of the feeble churches in Connecticut, will send the surplus of current receipts from the churches to the Treasury of this Society.

In reference to the contributions of the churches in Connecticut to Home Missions, the Secretary speaks as follows: "In 1880, the American Home Missionary Society received from Connecticut directly, boxes at a valuation of $14,822.82; contributions, including $582.99 for Sunday-school work, $17,448.17; legacies, $20,655.44; in all, $52,926.43. Both societies received from Connecticut in 1880, boxes, $14,822.82; legacies, $20,807.93; contributions, $30,382.81; in all, $66,013.56, or $8,815.65 less than in 1879, and the smallest total since 1872. The falling-off was in legacies and contributions, the contributions being $2,315.15 less than in 1879. The contributions for State work were $115.77 more than in 1879. Of our 297 churches, 180 made contributions for State work; 171 made offerings to the American Home Missionary Society; 88 to both Societies, and 38 to neither; 24 churches gave for the Sunday-school work; 25 churches gave legacies; and 74 gave boxes.

"We are grateful that the number of churches helping us is steadily increasing. It would be cause for devout gladness if, at length, any church would make it a matter of State interest, church-fellowship, and Christian honor, to sustain the Society which alone is charged with supplying the home missionary needs of this small but important commonwealth. We rejoice that Connecticut has been so generous to the West; and never more so than in the last fifteen years: and we trust that, however urgent and numerous the applicants for her benefactions may be, she will show her appreciation of the ministry and the local church, as a divinely appointed and honored means for the evangelization of men, by an abounding liberality to Home Missions, State and National."

The total of receipts from New England is $205,915.81, which is more than the amount of the preceding year by $16,361.45. Of this, $73,859.16 were expended within its own bounds, and $132,056.65 were forwarded to the National Institution for its general work.

NEW YORK HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Rev. AUGUSTUS F. BEARD, D.D., President; Rev. JOHN C. HOLBROOK, D.D.,
Syracuse, Secretary; Rev. ALEXANDER H. CLAPP, D.D.,
New York, Treasurer.

The receipts into the Treasury of this Society, in the year ending March 31st, including $197.72 for the Sunday-school Department, were: contributions, $11,937.93; legacies, $2,446.29; in all $14,581.94, or $3,122.33 less than in the previous year.

Fifty-five missionaries have been under appointment during the whole or a part of the year covered by this report, four of whom have labored with churches in Pennsylvania belonging to the General Association of New York. They have ministered steadily to about one hundred congregations. Two houses of worship have been erected, and eleven have been materially repaired and improved; two churches have been organized, and ten have ceased to depend upon missionary aid. The Trustees have earnestly endeavored to stimulate the feebler churches to aspire to self-support, thus diminishing the drafts upon the Treasury of the National Society, and indirectly adding to its resources for extending its operations in the newer portions of the land.

"After all," say the Trustees, "the great motive to effort in the home missionary cause is to be found in the pressing necessity of planting Christian institutions in the rapidly expanding settlements of the Great West. The facts in regard to the extension of our frontier, and the increase of population in the new States and Territories, are absolutely overwhelming and well-nigh incredible. Sovereign States that less than forty years ago were unorganized even as Territories, and where were only unbroken and untrodden prairies, now number their inhabitants by half to three-fourths of a million, and some even by the million, while Territories have been organized and have their hundreds of thousands of people in regions that within the same period were almost as much an unknown land as the interior of Africa. In the language of Holy Writ, 'Nations have been born in a day.' Imperial States have sprung into existence in a few years, as populous as some of the kingdoms of Europe centuries old! How great the effort then demanded adequately to supply the multiplying towns and cities and the spreading settlements of that vast interior of our continent, with the gospel ministry, and churches, and Sunday-schools, and all those moral and religious influences that shall save it from infidelity, and error, and irreligion."

OHIO HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Rev. JAMES BRAND, President; Rev. SAMUEL WOLCOTT, D.D., Cleveland, Secretary; Rev. ALEXANDER H. CLAPP, D.D., New York, Treasurer.

The field of this Society includes Ohio, and such portions of Western Pennsylvania, Western Virginia, and Kentucky as are embraced in the limits of the General Conference of Ohio. The amount raised for Home Missions on this field, during the year ending March 31st, is $6,440.73, which exceeds by $1,800.24 the sum raised in the previous year. Of this sum, $668.10 were designated for Sunday-school work and $7.60 for the Educational work of the Society. The expenditures have been $5,442.35.

Twenty-four laborers have been in commission on this field, and have ministered to about fifty congregations: forty-five of them in Ohio, three in Western Virginia, one in Western Pennsylvania, and one in Kentucky. Four churches have been organized within the year; two or three report seasons of special religious interest; and several others have enjoyed more than the ordinary measure of spiritual prosperity.

"Our Society," says the Secretary, "was somewhat startled, last year, by the announcement that the rate of contributions to Home Missions by our churches was lower than in any other State, and by the further discovery that this is not an exceptional fact; that we have occupied this position since these comparative tables were instituted. Notwithstanding the explanatory facts which would go to show that an equal rate in churches situated like ours would indicate not an equal, but a greater liberality, so many were conscious of their shortcomings in this matter, that this discovery smote them as a personal blow. The reaction has been healthful, and we have the satisfaction of reporting a gain to our contributions for the present year of $1,740.24. Had all the pastors manifested the zeal of some, the gain would have been still larger. We joyfully anticipate a growing increase in coming years. The Sunday-schools have, in some cases, materially swelled the aggregate, and a few churches have had the benefit, as their contributions show, of the separate and efficient aid of Christian women. There is here a great reserved force, which has been waiting for organization, and which will reveal itself in our future offerings. The plan which has been recommended at the East, of separate organizations in the churches for different objects of benevolence, does not find favor at the West. One organization, with a distinct Treasurer for each object, is the plan which generally commends itself most to our churches. Whether this rule shall obtain in the State society, or whether there shall be a separate State organization for each, is a question which the ladies will settle for themselves.

"A happy result of the increase of the contributions during the year, has been that the Committee have not been obliged to reject a single application for aid; and in only three cases has the sum asked for been curtailed. It should be added, however, that the dependent churches, knowing our past straits, have not pressed their demands as they otherwise would have done, and it is probable that, for the same reason, some that have been entitled to aid have forborne to ask it. A not less happy result of the increase of contributions has been that, besides caring for our own, we have contributed something to the frontier. The sum is not large—only a few hundred dollars—but is an earnest of larger sums which, with God's blessing, will flow from our churches to the regions beyond."

INDIANA.

Rev. LUMAN P. ROSE, Indianapolis, General Missionary.

The receipts of the Society from Indiana, including $3.72 for the Sunday-school work, have amounted to $1,406.59, of which $1,000 were in payment of a legacy. Eight missionaries, including the general missionary, have labored in the State, and have supplied statedly fourteen churches and two out-stations. The general missionary has preached one hundred and twenty-one discourses at thirty-two places, chiefly to congregations which were destitute of regular preaching. One church has been organized, two have become self-sustaining, and three have built houses of worship. Four churches, whose names stand on the roll, have, during the hard times, become so weakened by deaths and removal, that they have only a name to live, and will probably become extinct.

"Our State Association," says the General Missionary, "made an aggressive movement at their last meeting by organizing 'The Home Missionary Society of Indiana,' for the purpose of accomplishing more work and securing more means with which to do it. An executive committee of five were appointed, whose duty it is to meet once a quarter to confer upon the best means of prosecuting the work. This committee issued a circular to the churches, requesting a prompt and systematic plan of operation in the work of missions in the State, and urging from all the churches contributions to the amount of at least one cent a week per member. We hope for a better showing another year. While there is much to discourage in our State, and reverses sometimes come, yet we do not propose to strike our tents or spike our guns.

"The heated political campaign, which reached its highest pitch of excitement in our State; the unusual and extensive interruption of work in our churches incident to changing pastors, which prevailed like an epidemic over the State, leaving six of our churches at one time and for several months in the restless, demoralized condition of an army without a leader; the extreme cold winter, which has seemed to interfere with the progress of gospel meetings ; and the dense fog of skepticism which seems to hang over the people like a dark cloud, all conspire to blast the hopes, thwart the plans, relax the efforts, and try the faith of the workers for Christ and his Church. But so long as the promise, ' Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world ' stands, so long we will take courage and work for the redemption of man and the growth of the Church."

ILLINOIS HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Rev. EDWARD P. GOODWIN, D.D., President ; Rev. JAMES TOMPKINS, Secretary ; JAMES W. SCOVILLE, Esq., Treasurer. Office in Chicago.

The receipts of this Society, in the year ending February 28th, were $9,690.28, and its expenditures $9,681.55. The churches of the State have also sent to the Treasury of the National Society, in its year ending March 31st, $2,739.27, of which $1,550 was in payment of legacies, and $26.55 was for the Sunday-school Department. The entire contributions from the State were $12,429.55 ; exceeding those of the previous year by $4,777.39.

Forty-eight missionaries have been in commission during the whole or some portion of the year. They have ministered to sixty-three churches, and in seven other communities where no church organization exists. Six other laborers have been employed for special service in fifteen different communities, most of them villages just started on new lines of railroad. The Secretary has spent most of his time in general missionary work throughout the State, and has secured a large amount of gratuitous service on missionary fields, from the pastors of churches in the neighborhood. Three churches have been organized, four houses of worship have been erected, nine repaired and otherwise improved, twelve congregations have assumed self-support, and Sunday-schools have been organized in several districts not otherwise reached by evangelizing influences.

"The past year," says the Secretary, "has been one of severe toil to all these laborers, but it has also been one of progress and encouragement. Churches and pastors have taken hold of this work in a more prayerful and earnest spirit. The feeling prevails more extensively than hitherto, that this home missionary work is one of vital importance, and requires consecration, energy, and perseverance. Pastors and churches are wisely laying larger plans with reference to the work, and Christian men of large means are thinking more seriously of the duty of preaching 'the gospel to every creature' in this land, and of devoting larger sums to this vast work. Christian women, also, are asking whether they have not a duty to perform in the effort that is being made to rescue the thousands of women and children in our own land from degradation and threatened barbarism. These convictions have increased our funds for the year just closed, and give us large hope that they will increase much more in the future. Certainly this should be the case. The churches of this State ought to double the amount now given to this work. We confidently expect such a result. This State is better prepared than ever before to push forward the work within its own borders, and to lend a helping hand to the greater work so imperatively needed in the regions beyond."

MISSOURI, ARKANSAS, INDIAN TERRITORY, AND TEXAS.

Rev. ROBERT WEST, St. Louis, Superintendent.

The contributions from this district to the Treasury of the Society have been $2,070.79, which exceeds by $1,203.03 the sum contributed in the previous year, and is larger than in any former year. Of this amount, $4 were for the Sunday-school Department. Thirty-five missionaries have been under commission, five of whom have entered the service in this district since the last report. Twenty have labored in Missouri, three in the Indian Territory, and two in Texas. One has been ordained to the work of the ministry, five have been installed pastors of the churches with which they labor, and one has been removed by death. Two churches have been organized, one reorganized, and three others have come into fellowship with the Congregational churches of Missouri. Four congregations have assumed self-support. Three houses of worship, one of them in the Cherokee Nation, have been erected, and one is now in process of erection at Dallas, Texas. Five churches report revivals of religion, which have added nearly 150 to their membership. The aspect of the field, as a whole, was never so promising as it is at present.

The Central Home Missionary Committee for this district, make an earnest appeal for a reinforcement of at least thirty laborers, more than doubling the force now in the field. As the basis of this appeal, they say: "In Missouri, the increase of population (more than 700,000 in ten years) and the rapid development of the great resources of the State, so long neglected, the opening of fertile regions, and the awakening of old settlements to new life by the rapid multiplication of railroads, have given a new impulse to all the interests of the State. The steady and healthful growth of our churches is a source of encouragement. In the last four years eleven have come to self-support, and during the last year the net increase of church-membership was over ten per cent., an average of seven to each church. There are villages and towns in the southwest where there is no church service, no prayer-meeting, not even a Sunday-school. We need ten or fifteen more missionaries at once in Missouri.

"The Indian Territory, larger by one-third than England, and soon doubtless to be opened to white settlement, calls loudly for missionary churches and ministers to supply them. The President joins with the Secretary of the Interior, in recommending such legislation as shall secure a large part of the land to the Indians in severalty, and open the remainder to actual settlers. Our success at the several points occupied in the Territory, gives promise of abundant fruit in other fields to which we are invited. We should add five more to our force in this Territory and in north-west Arkansas.

"Texas, as you know, is feeling the impulse given to all her interests by the unprecedented increase in railroads and the millions of dollars expended in their construction by giant corporations contending for supremacy in that vast region. We need at once ten or fifteen missionaries for Texas."

The Executive Committee are deeply impressed by this appeal, and would gladly send the reinforcements for which it calls. But this would involve an enlargement of their expenditures in this district for the first year of nearly $20,000. Plainly this will be impossible, unless the churches make an advance many times greater than this in their gifts to the Treasury of the Society. It is for the churches, therefore, to decide what response shall be made to this and other appeals of a like character from different portions of the great missionary field.

MICHIGAN.

Rev. LEROY WARREN, Lansing, Superintendent.

The contributions of Michigan, including $210.33 for Sunday-school work, and $145.31 for Educational work, were $9,043.73, of which $1,698.79 came from legacies. This leaves $7,344.94 as the receipts of the Society from living contributors—an average of about sixty-two cents for each resident church-member. This is $606.96 in advance of gifts from the living over the year previous, and is larger than in any other year.

Ninety-five missionaries have borne the Society's commission in this State during the whole or a part of the year. This exceeds, by eight, the number sustained in any preceding year. Twenty-eight of these missionaries have commenced labor in the State since the last report. Two hundred and six congregations have been stately supplied with preaching; fourteen churches have been organized; four missionaries have been ordained; six houses of worship have been secured by erection or purchase, one of them having cost the sum of $150, and four are now in process of erection. Five churches have been able to dispense with missionary aid—though they are not all strictly self-sustaining—and three are in a struggle with debt, which imperils their existence. Six churches which had long been without pastors, and had become nearly extinct, have been resuscitated and supplied with stated preaching. On eight missionary fields there have been revivals of religion as the result of special meetings, and nearly all the churches have received more than the usual number of additions by profession of faith. In respect to the number of houses of worship built, and of churches brought to self-support, the showing is not as favorable as it was last year; yet there has been, in most parts of the field, real and encouraging progress. The greater part of the work is new. Sixty of the churches are under four years old. Time must be given an infant to grow, and it must have care.

The Superintendent says: "The special point of interest in our work this year is the opening of the new home missionary field in the upper peninsula. We had but two churches in that part of the State. For seven years we had organized none, and had spent no missionary money there, except occasionally to send a seminary student to preach, during vacation, in the mining villages near Hancock. This year we have organized six churches in Chippewa and Mackinaw counties, containing now more than one hundred members. Four faithful Home Missionaries are at work, and calling earnestly for reinforcements; and our expenditures there this first year will amount to nearly $1,500. How shall our over-taxed resources sustain this additional work in this newest part of the State? Yet the need of the work is most immediate and urgent. The population of the upper peninsula has increased 100 per cent. in ten years. A line of railroad will shortly be completed along the entire south shore of Lake Superior, part of a great trans-continental route. The hitherto inaccessible wild will be filled with busy people, developing all its rich resources and laying the foundations of new society. Shall we not make haste to give them the gospel and the church of Christ? The upper peninsula comprises two-fifths of the Territory of the State; and there is every indication that it will shortly sustain a large population. We cannot afford to let this field lie waste.

"Michigan has grown for ten years past at a more rapid rate per cent. than any other Northern State east of the Mississippi. Of all the States that are less than fifty years old, with the exception of Kansas and Texas, Michigan has received the largest increase of population in the last ten years. Of the population really congenial to Congregationalism and to our home missionary work, the increase has probably been greater in Michigan than in Texas, or even Kansas. Michigan has added more Congregational church-members in the past ten years than any other Western State. Only three States in all, Massachusetts (11,730), New York (7,938), and Connecticut (6,589), have added more Congregational church-members in ten years than Michigan (6,278). Immigration to the State is now more rapid than ever before, and the requests for ministers and for the organization of churches are more frequent. This is the hour of our opportunity to shape the Christian history of the State. This decade will mostly complete the first occupancy of the new lands and the founding of pioneer churches. Where are the men wise to win souls and to gather the people into the fold of Christ? Where shall we find the means to carry forward this great work which God has put into our hands?"

WISCONSIN.

Rev. FRANKLIN B. DOE, Ripon, Superintendent.

The receipts of the Society from Wisconsin, in the year ending March 31st, were $5,213.61, including $41.44 for the Sunday-school work. This is less by $964.64 than the amount received in the previous year, which, however, included $469.49 paid in the settlement of legacies.

The number of missionaries in commission during the whole or a part of the year, is fifty-four. They have served eighty-two churches and sixty-four out-stations, making an aggregate of one hundred and forty-six congregations that have been supplied stately with gospel ministrations. Two churches have been organized; one house of worship has been completed, two are now in process of erection, and several have been repaired and greatly improved. Two parsonages have been secured. In several places churches that had become weakened by emigration and business depression, have been revived and strengthened, and will again be supplied with ministers. The Superintendent writes that "there is a general quickening all along the line, and unless present indications fail, another year will show decided progress. Revivals of religion have only been of moderate extent and power, but there has been evident growth in grace, in integrity of Christian character, and in Christian activity. There has been more of the instructive and constructive than of revival aggressiveness or of evangelizing work. Our Sunday-schools were never more promising in numbers and character. Some twenty of our feeble schools have been assisted to libraries and other appliances through the Sunday-school Department of the Home Missionary Society.

"The most encouraging forward movement that has been made within the year, is seen in the 'Business Men's Offering.' This movement has just been commenced by leading men in the State, who, in addition to their usual gifts to this cause, in connection with the contributions of the churches to which they belong, propose to place at the disposal of this Society an annual 'offering,' which they hope will not be less than $5,000. Through the aid thus afforded them, the Executive Committee hope to save some of the churches, in the older portion of the State, that are weakened by emigration and are ready to perish, and at the same time to push the work of the Society on the northern frontier, which is steadily advancing through the wilderness toward the shore of Lake Superior. Some of the largest contributors to this fund were brought into the Christian fold under the labors of frontier missionaries in this State, and they but cancel a portion of their great indebtedness to this cause, by contributing to extend its blessed influence to the regions beyond."

IOWA.

Rev. EPHRAIM ADAMS, Waterloo, Superintendent.

The contributions to the Treasury, during the year, have amounted to $7,520.05, or $1,237.42 more than those of the previous year. Of this sum, $185.53 were the avails of legacies, and $61.35 were designed for the Sunday-school work. The number of missionaries sustained is seventy-six, and is less by nine than was reported a year ago. Fifteen ministers have come into the State to engage in missionary service, and thirteen have gone from it to other States, or have retired from the work. One has gone to his reward in heaven. Of those remaining, two have been installed and four ordained since the year began. The number of congregations supplied with preaching regularly, is one hundred and five. Seven churches have been organized, six have come to self-support; five houses of worship have been erected. A few revivals have been reported, but the number is less than in many former years.

The Superintendent, in closing his report, gives the following retrospect of the year, and of the thirty-eight years which he has spent in Iowa: "On the whole, the work seems fairly prosperous. In some things our wants have not been met. We have not raised so much money as we hoped to raise. We have not been able to enlarge our work as, with an abundant supply of men and money, we might have done. Nor have we been able, among the weaker churches, to strengthen the things that remained, as we desired. We have not enjoyed revivals of religion in such number, and of such power, as the churches greatly need. But I turn from what we have not, to what we have in possession or in prospect.

"We have, then, about two hundred and thirty churches, with a membership of about fifteen thousand, in fair working order. These churches are manned by a ministry, to say the least, of average ability and devotion. We have a field, stimulating in both history and promise. Looking backward, we see a development of this portion of the great home missionary field that has been simply marvelous. We entered it, some of us, upon the saddle, fording streams and traversing prairies, to find the embryo villages of a few thousand people on its eastern border. All the interior and the west were still unexplored and untraversed, save by the red man, the deer, and the buffalo. Now the whole area is covered with a million and a half of people, with railroads to whirl us within twenty miles of the remotest of their homes; while villages, towns, and cities have sprung up everywhere on these arteries of trade—schools, and colleges, and churches accompanying them. Now Iowa is no longer on the frontier, but, central of States, the highway of the nation, with a history, a character, a people worthy of such a position. What has done it? Where lies the secret? Let a Southern voice answer. The words of a Georgia governor may well be quoted here: 'Disguise it as we may, the New England States, with their schools and their universities (and he should have added their churches), have dictated laws to this continent.' They have sent New England ideas all over the West, and they dominate there. And, as we remember the part which the American Home Missionary Society has taken in this work, we thank God for what it has already achieved, and turn with fresh courage and hope to our unfinished task."

MINNESOTA.

REV. LEVI H. COBB, Minneapolis, Superintendent.

The churches of Minnesota contributed to the Society during the year, $4,814.62, including a legacy of $100, and gifts of $195.87 for the Sunday-school work. This is an advance of $1,319.82 upon the contributions in the preceding year, and is an average of eighty cents for each resident member of the Congregational churches in the State. Only eight of the churches supplied with preaching failed to make a contribution.

Fifty-eight missionaries, of whom eighteen were new men, were under commission through the whole or a portion of the year, serving ninety churches and about fifty out-stations. Seven churches were organized, five reached self-support, and five report revivals of religion. Three pastors were installed; four houses of worship were built and one purchased; church debts to the amount of $1,747 were paid, and $1,395 were contributed by the aided churches to objects of benevolence. The additions to missionary churches by profession were 164, by letter 183, in all, 347. Eighteen Sunday-schools were formed, making the number now connected with the work of the Society 114, embracing a membership of 5,700. The amount expended in the State was $17,748, of which $435 were for Sunday-school work.

In reference to the wants of this State, the Superintendent speaks as follows: "On 200 miles of railroad, where there are twenty-four towns, varying in population from 100 to 2,000, we have work at only three points. Half of these places are utterly destitute of the preaching of the gospel. Another road, 156 miles in length, with stations every eight or ten miles, has not a single church of ours between the extremities. Calls have frequently come, urging us to send them a missionary. Another road of 180 miles has one church. These are specimens of the urgent need of both men and money to enlarge our work among the incoming American settlers.

"But at least one-third of the population of Minnesota is of foreign birth or extraction. Three Welsh churches are regularly supplied with preaching in their own language. Aside from this, the 300,000 people from the Old World whom God has sent to our doors, are left to the religion or irreligion they brought with them, especially the latter. Our institutions are in absolute peril at many points where these people outnumber us. Sunday is as other days, only more festive. Service on Sunday morning is seasoned with horse-racing in the afternoon. Shall this work be left to sporadic cases of conversion to pure Christianity and American ideas, or shall young men in our seminaries learn these languages, and go as missionaries among these people? This question demands serious thought. Left to itself it will never be answered. As a rule, immigrants from Europe have and tenaciously hold some form of religion. Scandinavians generally cling to the Lutheran faith and church as closely as Catholics to the Church of Rome. We must educate and send missionaries among them. The demand is imperative. Why send missionaries to 'nominally Christian lands' abroad, and leave millions of nominal Christians to perish uncared for at our doors?"

KANSAS.

Rev. SYLVESTER D. STORRS, Topeka, Superintendent.

The receipts of the Society from Kansas since the last report, have been $1,828.25, which is an advance upon those of the preceding year of $66.25, and is thirty-two cents for each resident member of the Congregational churches in the State. Of this sum, $16.06 were given for the Sunday-school Department.

The number of missionaries in commission is one hundred and seven, and the number of congregations supplied is about three hundred. Seventy-nine of these laborers, from whom returns for the year have been received, report that they have ministered stately to 137 churches and at 97 out-stations, and that 143 Sunday-schools have been maintained, 53 of which were organized within the year. Under their labors, 379 hopeful conversions have occurred, and 772 have been received to church-fellowship—420 by letter and 352 on confession of their faith. Twenty churches have been organized and two reorganized; three houses of worship have been completed and dedicated without debt, and two others are nearly completed; two parsonages have been secured; and three congregations have reached self-support. Eight men have been ordained to the work of the ministry, one of whom is the first contribution of the Congregational churches in Kansas to the missionary force in the foreign field.

The Superintendent finds some special grounds of encouragement in the present condition of his field, of which he speaks as follows: "I am glad to say that the drouth, which has caused great disappointment and suffering for two years, is broken.

Throughout the State the ground is thoroughly wet, and there seems to be no danger of the failure of crops the present year from the lack of rain, for which we thank God and take courage. The winter that commenced early in November, has been remarkable for length and steady cold. I have never seen its like in this respect in the twenty-two winters that I have spent in Kansas. Had it not been for timely aid in clothing and other family supplies, and the small remittances in money from Eastern friends, in addition to the grants of the Society, some of the missionaries would have been compelled to abandon their fields. Such gifts were never more highly appreciated.

“At the date of the late census, this State had a population of 995,966, a gain of 631,567 in ten years, and of 287,519 since 1878. But our great gain the last year was not so much in population, as in the adoption of the Temperance Amendment of the Constitution; in the act of the Legislature to carry out this amendment; and in the decision of the Supreme Court declaring the act constitutional. By this action we have prepared the way for the coming among us of a better class of immigrants, and for the more rapid advancement of the Redeemer's kingdom in our State. The American Home Missionary Society has done much toward securing this great advance. Its missionaries have always been in the front rank in this movement. Not one of them has faltered, but by union with thousands of other friends of temperance in the State, and by God's help, the victory has been won. Thus the greatest obstacle in the way of the conversion of multitudes has been removed, and the prospect was never before so good in this State for general prosperity and the success of the missionary work.”

NEBRASKA.

Rev. CHARLES W. MERRILL, Omaha, Superintendent.

The contributions from this State to the Treasury, during the year, amounted to $1,558.38, which exceeds the sum reported in the preceding year by $421.20, and equals fifty cents for each resident member of the Congregational churches. Of this amount, $500 were the avails of a legacy, $21.20 were designed for the Sunday-school work, and $100 for the Educational work.

Fifty-nine missionaries have been in commission, twenty-nine of whom have labored the whole year, and the others only a part of it. The aggregate of missionary service is thirty-one years. They have ministered to one hundred and fifteen churches and at forty-nine out-stations; twenty churches have been organized, with one hundred and eighty-nine members, and one church has come to self-support. Ten churches have enjoyed revivals of religion, which have resulted in about two hundred hopeful conversions, and a little over five hundred additions have been made to the membership of the churches. Seven houses of worship have been erected, at a cost of about $7,000. There are now one hundred and thirty-two Congregational churches in the State, eight of which are considered self-supporting, though only five are now sustaining ministers without aid. Twenty-six whose names are on the roll are vacant, but five of them are practically extinct. To supply existing vacancies, and important posts that have never been occupied, not less than twenty-four additional laborers should be sent to this State early in the present year.

Rev. H. N. GATES, who has had the superintendency of the work in this State for seven years, has been constrained by the state of his health, and that of his family, to resign his post, and his official term closed with February last. With what fidelity his labors have been performed, those who have witnessed them, and the results that have followed them, bear ample testimony. "In these seven years," he says, "seventy-eight churches have been organized and thirty-eight houses of worship have been built. The churches have more than doubled their membership and the amount of their gifts to the cause of benevolence. Our work in the State has never before been so promising and so highly appreciated as it is at present. Our ecclesiastical polity, our doctrinal basis, our methods of missionary action, and the tenacity of purpose with which we prosecute our plans to permanent success, have given us a favorable place in the estimation of the public, and have opened to us so many doors for missionary work, that we have been unable, with the men and money at our command, to enter them. It is to be hoped that the future Superintendent for this State will have an ample supply of both, and that God will crown his labors with abundant success."

The Executive Committee are happy to state that the Rev. CHARLES W. MERRILL, of Waseca, Minnesota, has been appointed Superintendent for Nebraska, and entered upon his labors March 1st. His wise, efficient, and successful ministry in Minnesota, and the high place which he has won in the confidence and esteem of the churches there, commend him as well fitted for the work he has undertaken. He has already received a cordial welcome from his predecessor and the churches on his new field.

DAKOTA.

Rev. STEWART SHELDON, Yankton, Superintendent.

The receipts from this Territory have been $243.02, including $5 contributed for the Sunday-school Department. This exceeds by $59.12 the amount raised in the Territory in the previous year. Twenty-three missionaries have been in commission, or six more than were reported a year ago. They have preached statedly to about fifty congregations. Thirteen churches have been organized, and one has become self-supporting; two houses of worship have been erected, one has been greatly improved, and two were in process of erection at the close of the year. Four churches have enjoyed refreshings from the presence of the Lord. There are fourteen churches, seven of them in the Black Hills, which ought to be supplied at once with the ministry of the Word. We are happy to state that this demand has already been responded to by eight or nine members of Yale Theological Seminary, who have pledged themselves for this service, and will enter upon it early in the year. But as many more recruits are called for to supply fields already open, and three times this number will be needed before the year shall close.

The influx of immigrants will doubtless be much greater than in any former year. The Superintendent says: "More than a thousand miles of new railroad have been projected, and the larger part of it built, with the cars already running, in different parts of the Territory. No less than a dozen lines, pointing in different directions, and each from fifty to two hundred miles long, have been started. This has opened up a vast country, scarcely known before—a country of half a million acres or more, enough to make several thousand farms of one hundred and sixty acres each; enough to warrant the speedy growth of a hundred or more villages and cities. The Government gives the farms, and these railroad magnates throw out their great thoroughfares and drive the iron horse forward, challenging the people to come and take their pick of as beautiful lands as the sun shines upon—lands right alongside of fully equipped railroads, in many instances close by well-built depots. This gives the newcomers an immediate market and quick transit to the great centers of commerce and trade. What was practically out of the world twelve months ago, is now within twenty-four hours of Chicago. Surely a nation is being born in a day.

"These are wonderful stimulants to the settling of a new country. Such competing railroad interests, going in advance of the homesteader, were never before known on so grand a scale. It is to make money that these great railroad corporations are driving forward their schemes with such unprecedented industry. And shall not the people of the Great King emulate them in planting the gospel in these newly opening fields—opening with a rapidity that surpasses our most sanguine expectations? What are these wonderful movements but a divine voice saying to God's people all over this land: Give the American Home Missionary Society and the Congregational Union more money, that they may meet the unexpected emergencies of these times; that they may send more men into the fields, build more churches, save more souls, and preserve our country from the fate which has overtaken other nations that have failed to answer God's call."

THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN DISTRICT.

Rev. CHARLES C. CREEGAN, Colorado Springs, Col., Superintendent and General Missionary.

The contributions to the Treasury from this district have amounted to $341.71, including $4.50 for the Sunday-school work. Of this sum, $326.01 came from Colorado, $12.70 from Utah, and $3 from New Mexico; and the aggregate, though small, exceeds that reported last year by $93.01. The number of missionaries in commission is eighteen, fifteen of whom labored in Colorado, two in Utah, and one in New Mexico. These missionaries have ministered to twenty-five churches, and at about twenty other points where it is hoped that churches will hereafter be gathered. Three female missionary teachers have also been employed in Utah. Fifteen churches have been organized, one has become self-supporting; four houses of worship have been erected, and six were in process of erection at the end of the year. Fourteen new laborers entered the field within the year. The whole number of churches in the district is thirty, just double the number in existence at the beginning of the year.

Since the last report, a missionary has been stationed at Park City, Utah, a town of two thousand people, and a church has been organized and a school established under the auspices of this Society. Early in the year a missionary was commissioned to labor in Albuquerque, New Mexico. He has gathered a church, and secured the erection of a house of worship for temporary use. In both of these Territories the Committee hope to station other laborers, and lay the foundations of permanent educational and gospel institutions in the course of the year.

The Superintendent, reviewing this first year of his official labors, says: "When we review the facts in regard to our churches during the year, we find much to encourage us. The Lord has done great things for us, whereof we are glad. But have we kept pace with the wonderful growth of population, and the developments of the country? More than fifty thousand people, it is believed, have become settlers in Colorado during the year 1880. The growth of population in the neighboring Territories has been scarcely less. There is every indication of a larger growth during the present year. Railroads are pushing across the plains, and through the cañons, and over the mountain ranges, in every direction. More than six hundred miles of road were constructed in Colorado last year, and probably not less than one thousand will be built this year. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad has shaken hands with the Southern Pacific in New Mexico, and is rushing on toward the Pacific Ocean. The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad is pushing out five branches, like the fingers of a man's hand, reaching toward the growing mining towns; while the main line is rushing toward Old Mexico. A recent order for 200 engines, 5,000 freight-cars, and iron for 1,000 miles of road, is an earnest of what they propose to do.

"There can be no doubt that Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, and Idaho are the best mining sections in the United States. Gold, silver, iron, copper, lead, coal, and other minerals are found in apparently inexhaustible quantities. The yield from the Colorado mines in 1880 was $25,000,000, with a prospect of $40,000,000 in 1881. The mineral resources of the adjacent Territories, though not fully developed, are probably not less than those of Colorado.

"Towns are springing up almost in a day. The town of Durango is only four months old, and, though built during one of the severest winters known, has now a population of fifteen hundred, with every prospect of five thousand before autumn. Not less than twelve towns, with a population of from one thousand to five thousand each, have sprung up in this New West during the last year; and scores of smaller places are growing up in every part of this region. Church work must be pushed with vigor in order to reach the thousands who are rushing into these new towns, most of whom are 'without God in the world.' The difficulties in the way of this work often appear to us as numerous and as formidable as the vast mountains that lift their heads above us: and yet God, who lifted up these mountains with his own hand, can raise up men and women who, filled with the Holy Ghost, shall go over these ranges and through these cañons, and lead men to God, until Christ's name shall be written on every mountain and sung in every valley. 'Pray the Lord of the harvest that he will send laborers into his harvest.'"

CALIFORNIA, ARIZONA, AND NEVADA.

Rev. JAMES H. WARREN, D.D., San Francisco, Superintendent.

The contributions of the churches in this district were $4,114.77, or less by $600.52 than in the preceding year. The average, however, for each resident member of the Congregational churches exceeded one dollar, and was larger than the average gifts of the living in any other Western State or Territory.

Thirty-one missionaries have been in commission, one of whom has labored in Nevada, and one in Arizona. Six churches have been organized, with an aggregate of seventy members. Five of them have flourishing Sunday-schools, and three of them have completed, or are now erecting, houses of worship. Three other houses of worship have been completed, three are now in process of erection, and four have been materially improved. One missionary has been removed by death. Fifteen churches are now destitute of preaching, or are provided for occasionally and inadequately. One church has become self-sustaining, but four others that once reached self-support have been obliged to fall back again upon the Society for help.

In October, a missionary was stationed at Prescott, the capital of Arizona, where a Congregational church had already been organized. He received a cordial welcome from the little band of Christians, who had been for many weeks praying and waiting for his arrival, and he has prosecuted his labors amid many obstacles, but with marked success. The Committee desire and propose to send other laborers into that Territory during the present year. The trans-continental railway, connecting it with both oceans, is now completed. Its mineral treasures will attract thither tens of thousands, for whose spiritual wants Christians of the East must provide. The call is imperative, and the time to answer it is now.

The Superintendent, in his review of the year, refers as follows to the revival scenes that have recently been witnessed in California. "Never in the history of this State has there been such a time of salvation and rejoicing. Those who have been sowing for years, weeping as they sowed, are gathering sheaves into the garner. While the efforts of the evangelists, for upward of four months, have been centered in San Francisco and Oakland, the whole State is more or less affected. Since January, over one thousand four hundred have united with the different churches in these two cities; hundreds have also been received in many of the interior towns. Distant churches have caught the spirit and the blessing, and the end is not yet. The State has had an uplift from which, we confidently believe, it will not come down.

"With such inspiration for service, there will come the spirit for large undertakings—new apprehensions of the prayer, 'Thy kingdom come'—new agony for souls. With such a baptism, how shall we turn a deaf ear to calls for help that come, come, come, not only from the unsupplied churches, but from those portions of the field where the gospel is not so much as preached by any branch of the Christian church? If it is heroic 'to hold the fort,' when the hosts of darkness are all let loose, what grander scene than to take the field again, at the Master's signal, and smite the enemy back to the very tombs. That signal is in the air, and WE MUST GO FORTH."

OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Rev. GEORGE H. ATKINSON, D.D., Portland, Oregon, General Missionary.

The receipts from this district during the year have been $547.56, which is a larger sum by $156.06 than was reported a year ago. Of this amount, $300.10 came from Oregon, and $247.46, including $3 for Sunday-school work, from Washington Territory.

Twelve missionaries have been in commission, four in Oregon and eight in Washington. They have ministered to thirty-six congregations. Five churches have been organized, and two licentiates have been ordained to the work of the ministry. All the congregations, except two, are free from debt, but eighteen or nineteen of them are without houses of worship, and need assistance in erecting them. Dr. Atkinson, during his recent visit at the East, secured a considerable amount of money for this purpose, and awakened much interest in this remote section of the home missionary field. He also visited the theological seminaries, and urged the claims of this region upon the attention of young men preparing for the gospel ministry. As the result of his efforts, it is hoped that several recruits will be secured to strengthen the little garrison on this distant outpost.

In reference to the condition and prospects of this region, he writes as follows: "Oregon gained ninety per cent. and Washington Territory two hundred and thirteen per cent. in population during the last ten years, without railroad connection with the Eastern States. Now three or four trans-continental railroads vie with each other in their progress to the Valley of the Columbia, and hope to connect us with the Western and Atlantic States within three years. Immigration even now flows strongly to that region from all parts of our Republic, and from all countries of Europe. The climate is like that of Western Europe, from like causes; and the resources of forests and mines, and farming regions and ocean products, invite business enterprise and reward industry. The older towns grow, new villages spring up, and our cities begin to assume metropolitan habits. Farming settlements become more compact and influential in affairs; schools multiply and improve; yet the drift of thought and energy is largely in the current of material prosperity.

"Our mission work needs now to be pushed forward and extended more widely in all this region. All the usual hindrances to the gospel exist here in strong force, while the way is open and the field everywhere is inviting to earnest men and women to enter and work in the Master's vineyard. Thought, and aims, and energies can be turned into Christian channels through the promised Spirit and Word of God in the hands and hearts of his servants. Eight or ten more churches can be established the present year, if men and money can be had to sustain them. New vigor can be put into churches by forward movements. Doubt, or fear, or languor has now no reason or fitness in these Christian enterprises. We shall gain vast per cents. of force in our Lord's visible kingdom by prompt action. God is building empires on our Pacific coast like those in Western Europe, and he bids us now to cast in the leaven of salvation. Delay is peril, neglect is ruin. Faith, love, and zeal win victory and peace for ever. The present urges the church to arise clad in full armor. The future of our country pleads for help now, as autumn pleads for faithful seed-time. Time, strength, and money spent there in missions now, will bring a hundred-fold more than they can do after years have passed."

CONCLUSION.

This review of the fifty-fifth year's work should not close without a most grateful acknowledgment of that Divine blessing which again, as in years past, has sustained the Society, controlled its plans, and prospered its operations in a remarkable manner. Many even of the best results cannot be stated in language, and find no place in columns of figures. Many forces of a powerful and beneficent sort have been set at work, of which there is no record here. To the eye of an intelligent and believing gratitude, however, they are neither hidden nor obscure. But there is more than enough of what is outstanding and strikingly visible in the results of the year to impress deep conviction upon every intelligent observer that, as in the days of our fathers, God is still pleased to make this Society one of His most effective instruments for establishing the Kingdom of His Dear Son over all this land.

Though the year has been one of extreme physical changes—of unexampled heat and drouth in summer, followed by unprecedented severity of cold and winter storms, greatly interfering with, or wholly preventing, missionary work, at times, throughout large areas of the Western field—yet, owing to the heroism, faith, consecrated devotion, and willingness to endure sufferings for Christ's sake that have characterized the brethren at the front, the work has been pushed forward with great vigor and success. The single fact that one hundred and thirty-one churches were organized during the year—fully two and a half every week—and these, for the most part, on the frontiers, will sufficiently illustrate and emphasize this point. In the ten years now completed, nine hundred and twelve churches have thus been called into existence by the Society—nearly one-quarter of the number of Congregational churches in our land. But the record of no former year has equaled that just made. The Society is plainly moving forward upon its high mission, and doing its great work with a continually accelerating momentum! Almost every item under the head of “comparative results” may well be studied in illustration of this cheering fact. The great body of these Congregational churches, with their enlightened membership, are standing behind the Society and nourishing it, determined to carry it forward and upward to a yet higher point of aggressive power. Their steady, undiminished, increasing contributions show it. The swelling tide of their enthusiasm and spirit of prayerful sacrifice for its work show it. This very remarkable quickening of home missionary zeal, amounting to almost a Pentecostal effusion, coming down on the land like summer's warmth, out of heaven, and urging the Society like a divine inspiration to “go forward” in the strength of God and His people—can be understood in no other way.

HOME MISSIONARY REVIVAL.

We cannot remember a time when our churches were so filled with this interest. It is as though the breath of the Almighty were sweeping through them, bringing on a home missionary revival. And they are found consecrating their sons and their daughters as they have not been doing; and these are found offering themselves to the work, with the baptism of the Holy One resting on them! The former days are back again. The "Illinois Band" and "The Iowa Band" are being repeated in "THE DAKOTA BAND"—this offering of a single Seminary (Yale), which thus brings nine consecrated men this season for our work in that mighty empire through whose inexhaustible fertility the waters of the swollen Missouri are pouring down.

Why should there not be this home missionary revival of such breadth and power? Is it not time for God thus to work? When was the nation ever more threatened with being moved away from the foundations? When was a bold and utterly defiant infidelity more widely or effectively and systematically spread abroad? When has a living faith in a personal God been so thoroughly undermined or wholly extinguished in such multitudes of our citizens? When have the prizes of material wealth and earthly life been greater or more seductive? When have men's minds in our nation been unsettled as they now are, upon the fundamental questions of property, social order, moral conduct, religion? Is it not time for a home missionary revival?

IMMIGRATION.

We have become accustomed to speak of a vast immigration. But even the "Commissioners of Immigration" are startled by the volume of that tide which is to roll in upon us this year! The solid columns of an army, near 500,000 strong, they tell us, are to converge from the nations of Europe, and defile through this single gateway of New York upon American territory before the year ends. And this army is to be conquered for Christ, taken captive for Him, by such instrumentalities as this Society sets and keeps in motion, or it will re-enforce the powers of darkness already here in the fearful conflict now going on. The amazing physical prosperity of this nation has gone forth to the ends of the earth. All nations have heard of it, and every year they are moving upon us in yet greater numbers. Do they bring the name and the fear of our fathers' God with them? And why is He thus precipitating the nations upon these shores—upon our hands and hearts? Why is he thus imperiling His heritage in this land? Is it not time for His breath to sweep through the nation, bringing in such a home missionary revival?

THE MORMON FACT.

While this great foreign immigration pours in on us, we have in the very heart of the nation the tremendous MORMON FACT, that political and moral cancer which, having already struck its roots of deadly virus all through one great National Territory, is now shooting them stealthily and swiftly through the three vast Territories adjacent. What are we to do with this Fact—great, spreading, terrible, dynamic; becoming every day more difficult to handle as it goes on striking its cancerous roots outward and downward into a yet broader national area, and becoming more and more complicated with politics and commercial interests? We have no time to lose. The sanctity of the Christian home, woman's sacredness, social purity, must be given to Utah, and the Mormon Fact be so obliterated from our national life as to be no more remembered. And with Mormonism must go the debasing superstition and control of the Jesuit priesthood over those great Territories on our Mexican border, where the entire native population, but especially the women and children, have been held under chains of a degrading ignorance. It is not strange that the Christian, enlightened, and pure womanhood represented by this Society should have been roused at this time, as never before, to efforts for those regions; or that organizations, with an object like that of the WOMAN'S HOME MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION at Boston, should be forming, in different parts of our country, auxiliary to this Society, to elicit woman's fullest and best co-operation. We rejoice in what has already been done and reported in this sending out of Christian women as missionary teachers, and regard it as another significant expression of the great home missionary revival now going on.

STUDYING GEOGRAPHY.

The American people are found at length studying the geography of their own country. European capitalists have been doing it, and pouring their millions of dollars into those great railways that are stretching across the continent like fingers of a colossal hand to grasp its wealth and material power. The American Church is now studying the map and the mighty missionary problem that these railways are swiftly creating for it. Not less than three of them are being pressed forward to the Pacific, through the Northern belt of Territories. Another has been completed during this year through the Southern belt, while yet other gigantic corporations are crowding Southward toward Mexico, or Westward through the mountains of untold mining wealth, with breathless speed, tireless energy, and exhaustless means at command. These railways do not wait for populations, they bring them. They do not seek towns, they create them.

And the home missionary work which they thus create, as fast as steam can drive the railway and the locomotive forward, is not imperative only, but it is immense in amount and instant in time. We cannot delay an hour without loss, we cannot postpone a year without sin.

The American Church, the Christian people of America, the men in this nation that love their country, are studying its geography—its geography not of mountains, and rivers, and valleys, and lakes, so much, but of railways on which cities, States, empires, are being strung along with the quickness of the rolling years! And the Spirit of the living God is seizing on this study of their own country to breathe this grand revival of Home Missions through the thought and heart of the Church.

THE FUTURE.

We stand now in presence of another opening year. But we know nothing of discouragement. The pillar of fire and of cloud is going before the Society. The people of God cherish and love it. The grandeur of its work in the past is to be more than paralleled in the future! The churches it shall plant, the souls it shall gather, the homes and families it shall fill with that light above the brightness of any earthly sun, the communities it shall organize and control to peace and purity by its ministration of the grace of God, will yet outnumber an hundredfold all those which are its memorials thus far. This year will be made memorable in its history by the National Anniversary of the Society, to be held in Chicago from the 7th to the 9th of June. Its work and its resources will then be spread before the world. Its friends and supporters will gather from the east and the west, from the north and the south; and as they consider the tremendous responsibility laid upon the American Church, and hear from on high the awakening call of God, who can doubt that, with a sublimer joy, with a more thrilling and inspired consecration, they will gird themselves to the work He has given us to do? For the Spirit of the Lord is upon the Society and upon its supporters. In reverent faith we may say, "HE HATH ANOINTED IT TO PREACH HIS GOSPEL AND TO PROCLAIM THE ACCEPTABLE YEAR OF THE LORD."

In behalf of the Executive Committee:

DAVID B. COE,

HENRY M. STORRS,

DIRECTORS FOR LIFE,

CONSTITUTED SINCE MARCH 31, 1876.

The List of Life Directors and Life Members of this Society has become so large, that, to save expense, its publication with the Annual Report is discontinued. The names of those constituted in the first fifty years of the Society have been printed separately, and a copy will be sent to any member of the Society, on application. The list of those constituted since that date, only, will be printed, year by year, in the Annual Report.

RELATIONS OF AUXILIARIES, ECCLESIASTICAL BODIES, ETC.

Auxiliaries.

A NUMBER of the State Missionary Societies now auxiliary were in existence before the formation of the National Society, and some of them were among the earliest organized efforts in our country for sending the gospel to the destitute. They have voluntarily connected themselves as Auxiliaries with the American Home Missionary Society, from a conviction that greater unity of plan and efficiency in action would thereby be promoted.

The terms by which Auxiliaries—acting on the principles of the Parent Society, undertaking the supply of the destitute within their own bounds, and paying over their surplus funds to the Parent Institution—are connected with the Parent Society, are such as to secure the following objects, viz. :

First—The Auxiliary is not superseded or overshadowed by the National Institution, but, on the contrary, is invigorated and sustained by connection with it.

This is secured by the provision that the Auxiliary is the sole agency for this cause that operates on its field. It controls all appointments in the State to which it belongs. From it alone, so far as its means will allow, the feeble churches receive assistance. Thus a direct relation and strong attachment are cherished toward it, in the hearts of the ministers and churches.

Again—While the local operations of the Auxiliary are thus encouraged and sustained, its connection with the Parent Society is such as to awaken an interest in the destitute beyond its own limits, and afford facilities for reaching them. It is not only a Society for local purposes, but it also is a branch of the National Society, and, as such, has the control of all agencies for the collection of funds within its own field, and can direct the manner in which its surplus resources shall be expended beyond its own limits. Thus, the Auxiliaries are not merely organizations to help the Parent Society; they are integral parts of it, bound together in one whole by a common interest in and free access, through the Parent Society, to the great field to be occupied, and governed by the same general principles and rules in carrying on the work.

Those State Missionary Societies which have not yet assumed an Auxiliary relation to the National Society, co-operate with it on the same principles which apply to ecclesiastical bodies, acting through Committees of Missions.

Committees of Missions, etc.

The American Home Missionary Society has ever regarded the ecclesiastical bodies as the appropriate judges of the standing of their own ministers, and of the wants of the churches in their connection. Accordingly, the commission issued to each missionary requires that his commission be acceptable to the ministerial body of his denomination, within whose bounds he is appointed to labor. The various ecclesiastical bodies in those States where Missionary Societies do not exist, are invited to appoint each a Committee of Missions from its own members, to receive applications from its churches, and suggest to the Society the action proper in each case. Such a Committee constitutes the official source to which reference can be had for information and advice, in all matters pertaining to missions in the connection to which it belongs. This mode of co-operation has been preferred by numerous ecclesiastical bodies, from the first formation of the Society. It guarantees to the churches, that their respective claims shall be fairly considered, with all the advantage of having the indorsement of the body to which they belong. The advice of such a Committee, acting in the name and by the direction of the ecclesiastical body to which they belong, is regarded as the highest authority in matters pertaining to the standing of ministers and churches in their connection, and has the same influence with the Society, as would that of a Board of Agency appointed by itself.

There is one limitation to this influence, however, which ought to be stated. Should any ecclesiastical body so far swerve from the principles of truth and gospel order, as not to retain the fellowship and confidence of the great body of the churches co-operating in the Society, that fact would cause its recommendations not to be respected, as a basis of action by the Executive Committee.

As cases may occur in which feeble churches may not be aware of the existence of any Committee of Missions or State Missionary Society, through which to apply for aid, a general provision is made, that an application may be vouched for by any two ministers, of known and approved standing, of their own denomination, who can certify to the facts of the case. If the information thus given is not sufficient, other facts are sought by the Executive Committee, with as little delay as practicable, from the most authentic sources from which they can be obtained.

Such, briefly, are the relations of the American Home Missionary Society to the various organs through which the community seeks to act out its missionary feeling. It will be seen that this plan secures the united action, in the missionary work, of those whose views of doctrine and church order admit of co-operation, and whose interests in the great field are essentially the same. This combination insures a homogeneous policy as to the manner and amount of appropriations and the qualifications of missionaries; it has discouraged sectional feelings, and diffused throughout each part an interest in all the rest; and has thus formed ties between the West and the East, along which has passed from the latter to the former a silent and invisible current of moral influences more valuable, if possible, than all pecuniary grants. At the same time the connection of the Parent Society with the various associations that act with it is such as to secure to them entire freedom in the missionary work, in their respective spheres, and an influence beyond them, in cultivating the waste places of our common country.

Superintendents.

Besides preaching to the destitute and taking up contributions for Home Missions, the Superintendents of the American Home Missionary Society exercise a general supervision of the operations of the Society within their respective fields. By correspondence and personal visitation they ascertain the wants of the destitute; assist them to obtain the preaching of the gospel; and instruct and encourage them to develop their own means for its support. They receive applications for aid, and make such preliminary examination as may be necessary before submitting them for the action of the Executive Committee; and in other ways labor to insure a judicious and economical application of the Society's funds. The Society has in its employ no merely collecting Agents, nor any whose services are not required for other purposes in the region where they labor.

Applications for Aid.

Congregations desiring aid should apply at once after finding a minister. They should make a full statement of the facts in their condition and prospects which justify an application. They should also give these particulars, viz. :—

- Population of the place.
- Whether growing, stationary, or declining.
- Names of the church or churches, and preaching stations.
- Number of church members.
- Average number of attendants on public worship.
- Denomination and size of contiguous congregations.
- Names and distances of the nearest Congregational churches.
- Minister's full name and post-office address: Town, County, State.
- Whether he resides on his field of labor.
- Whether he has any other calling than that of the ministry.
- Whether he is now, or is to be installed pastor of the church.
- Of what Ministerial Association he is a member.
- Of what local church.
- The number of persons composing his family.
- Total amount of salary proposed.
- Amount pledged by the people, and how secured.
- Amount pledged by the people last year.
- Whether the minister has, also, the use of a parsonage.
- Whether aid is expected from any other source.
- The least amount that will suffice from this Society.
- The amount received from this Society last year.
- Whether a less amount will probably be needed next year.
- Amount contributed to this Society last year.
- Amount contributed to other benevolent causes.
- Date of the desired commission.

The application must be signed by the officers of the church, where there is one, and by the trustees or a committee of the congregation.

If the ecclesiastical body, within whose limits the congregation is situated, has a "Committee of Missions," the members of that committee should certify these statements, the standing of the minister, his prospects of usefulness there, and indorse the application. If no such "Committee of Missions" exists, the application should be indorsed by two or more neighboring clergymen, acquainted with the facts. If no church or congregation is yet gathered, applicants will follow the same course, as far as practicable.

Applications, after being so indorsed, should be sent to the Superintendent (or Secretary of the Auxiliary) for the region where the applicants reside.

Appropriations, as a rule, will not be dated back more than two months from the time when the application was made, or more than three months from the time when it reaches the Executive Committee in New York; and they never cover more than one year. If further aid be needed, a new application is required, containing all the particulars named above, and indorsed as before. To this the certificate of the missionary, that the congregation has fulfilled its previous pledges for his support, must be added. The address of the Society's Superintendents and the Secretaries of its Auxiliaries will be found on the cover of its Reports and of The Home Missionary.
